zuma

Since 2002, Zuma has built a global reputation on consistency not only in its iconic menu but in the experience it offers. From London to Doha, the signature dishes remain untouched with the robata grill, the sushi counter, and of course, the legendary miso-marinated black cod, a dish that has become one of the most recognized and celebrated plates in contemporary Japanese dining worldwide.

But Zuma isn't just about the food. The atmosphere evolves with the night. While weekdays deliver a refined, elegant dining experience, Thursdays and Fridays reveal a different side of Zuma. The bar becomes the heartbeat of the venue, a gathering point for the city's most stylish crowd where energy rises, music builds, and the lines between dining and nightlife beautifully blur.

It's this unique transformation from precision dining to the perfect night out that keeps Zuma ahead. Here people don't just come for dinner. They come for the entire experience.
